

LifeWorks – here for you in times of change

LifeWorks can improve your well-being

The impact on daily life caused by COVID-19 (Coronavirus) continues to become more intense and disruptive. This pandemic is affecting all aspects of society, and it's easy to feel overwhelmed.

LifeWorks has a range of practical resources to help you find guidance and support during this difficult time. Caring, professional LifeWorks advisors are available by phone 24/7 to help you:

- Understand and handle feelings of anxiety, sadness or anger with mental health counseling
- Access free financial counseling
- Identify local community resources which can offer additional assistance, including where to find childcare and eldercare
- Develop practical plans and receive guidance with Life Coaching

Contact LifeWorks, toll-free, any time to speak with an advisor, or to request a referral to counseling.

You can also log in to the LifeWorks platform to access a wealth of articles and resources, including:

- COVID-19 \(Coronavirus\) Toolkit
- How the Assistance Program Can Help in a Crisis
- Making the Transition to Working from Home
- Setting Work-Life Boundaries When You Work from Home
- When Your Family Income Changes
- Resilience During a Disease Outbreak, Epidemic, or Pandemic
- Online Toolkits including Stress Management, Mental Health and More
- LIFT session fitness - online workouts to stay healthy while avoiding the gym

Call us, toll-free, 24/7:

If you're joining LifeWorks using an invitation code, go to login.lifeworks.com or download the app and click on "Sign up."

Your invitation code is:

For example, if your unique employee identifier is 01, your invitation code is:

Download the app now, just search for "LifeWorks".

